

Web Site Use and Access

Terms of use & Cookies policy

Your details will not be sold on, or exchanged, with outside bodies. They will only be kept for Web traffic purposes and no specific IP address details or Names are kept for marketing purposes, as we do not sell anything.

We do not collect any personal information about you.

All Members details are held in a separate database, unconnected with the website and also no data pertaining to the actual user or you address details will ever be available to anyone without your advanced specific written permission, as announced in the Constitution of the Association.

Any Cookies left on your system are for your website history only.

Our website may include web beacons and cookies of which we are unaware or provided by our website hosting agent for statistical purposes only.

Privacy Policy.

Please see above, your details are safe with us.

Any logins for member areas will not identify you within the data, as this information is not retrieved from a database that will in any way identify you. This is specifically why we chose this method of use to keep our users anonymous at all times, and you safe from any dangers. Your login will never disclose your real email address or contact details as will never link to this.

GDPR

Please see our separate document, GDPR Statement RPOA, for details of information we hold about you for membership purposes.